Whole-Church Safety and Security: How to be a Resource for Protecting the People, Places, Property, Programs and Processes of a Place of Worship

Instructor: Tina Lewis Rowe, Denver, CO
Your whole-church safety and security resource!
www.tinalewisrowe.com

Southlake, Texas Police Training Facility
100 East Dove Road
(Dove Road and White Chapel, north of SH 114)

*For church leaders and staff, security teams, greeters and ushers, facility and maintenance staff, teachers and volunteers, sworn and non-sworn law enforcement and reserves.

*This is whole-church information that goes beyond the obvious concerns of violence and disruption, to help you be a steward of every aspect of your place of worship. You'll also get material to help you be a security resource for churches.

This low-cost training is packed with information and inspiration about the big picture of safety and security for places of worship—it's whole-church, all the time, for everything and every person, any place.

You'll learn how to easily develop and implement the components of a an effective program, reenergize an existing one or reinforce your best practices. Seats are limited, so register early!

Instructor: Tina Lewis Rowe had a thirty three year law enforcement career (Denver Police Dept., Capt. (ret.) United States Marshal for Colorado (ret.)). She has trained and presented to thousands of audiences about police and private sector organizational topics, and security planning for courthouses, businesses and places of worship. Author of: Worship Without Worry and other material, requested by over 30,000 places of worship, world-wide.

How to register: Send names and contact information to
